President's Message

Stacy Soldato

Learn and Grow: How teamwork makes the dream work

A team is a group of individuals working together who collaborate on a related task to achieve their common goal. Team effort is necessary to achieve our show's success and while each member plays a part to make it work, it would be catastrophic if members were too restrictive with their time and unable to support their teammates. The donation of personal time is as valuable as monetary contributions in my opinion, and is fundamental to establish a successful outcome.

Our show this past week was truly an example of how teamwork makes the dream work. Beginning Wednesday with Kasia for all the shopping and finding some "muscle" for loading equipment; Betsy, Karen and Carol for their meticulous job of table skirting; Liz and Dave for the agonizing job of plant registration; Mike and Marianne for delivery and construction design of the display; Joe for judging, organizing clerks, and hosting Tim Culthberson; Steve Reardon for plant and fern order; Steve Steiner for the terrariums; Steve LaValley for 5 days of help with anything and everything. Because we had so many volunteers who helped in multiple positions, I would like to thank those who helped with clerking, display setup/takedown, plant sales, plant babysitting, member services, reception table duties, and door watchers. Each and every member played a pivotal role in the success of our event and I thank you all for your dedication and commitment.

Thanks would not be complete without naming the chairman of the orchid show, Marc Gray. Marc calls on his years of experience and his contacts throughout the year to make sure all the details come together seamlessly. So many components have to merge for the show to take shape, from lining up vendors to the lighting and electrical cords. Every year he makes it happen- thank you, Marc!

Thank you to all who provided plants for our display, and congratulations to all who earned ribbons and awards. My hope is that everyone learned something they did not know from the diverse group of growers, vendors and judges we hosted this year. Last but not least I would like to encourage all members to support one another on this great orchid growing journey/roller coaster ride that we share. After all... teamwork does make the dream work!

March will be a busy month for the Amherst Orchid Society. Starting with our meeting on March 9th we will be hosting a guest speaker from the Smith College greenhouse, Jimmy Grogan. He will be speaking to the group about what they grow at Smith and the future of their collection. We are also hoping to arrange a field trip in the near future to tour the greenhouse and learn more about the types of orchids and their culture in their orchid house.

Next will be the Nutmeg show in West Hartford, CT. on the weekend of the 21st followed by the New Hampshire Orchid Society show the last weekend in March. Reach out to me (413-884-4538, stacysoldato@gmail.com) or Marc (802-258-8406, bulbophyllum@myfairpoint.net) if you can assist in any way or have plants to enter.

Now that our weather has improved substantially since last month and spring is right around the corner, I hope to see you all at our upcoming meeting.

Upcoming AOS Webinar: Why Won't it Bloom? With Ron McHatton

Wednesday, March 5th, 2025 8:30 PM – 9:30 PM EST EST

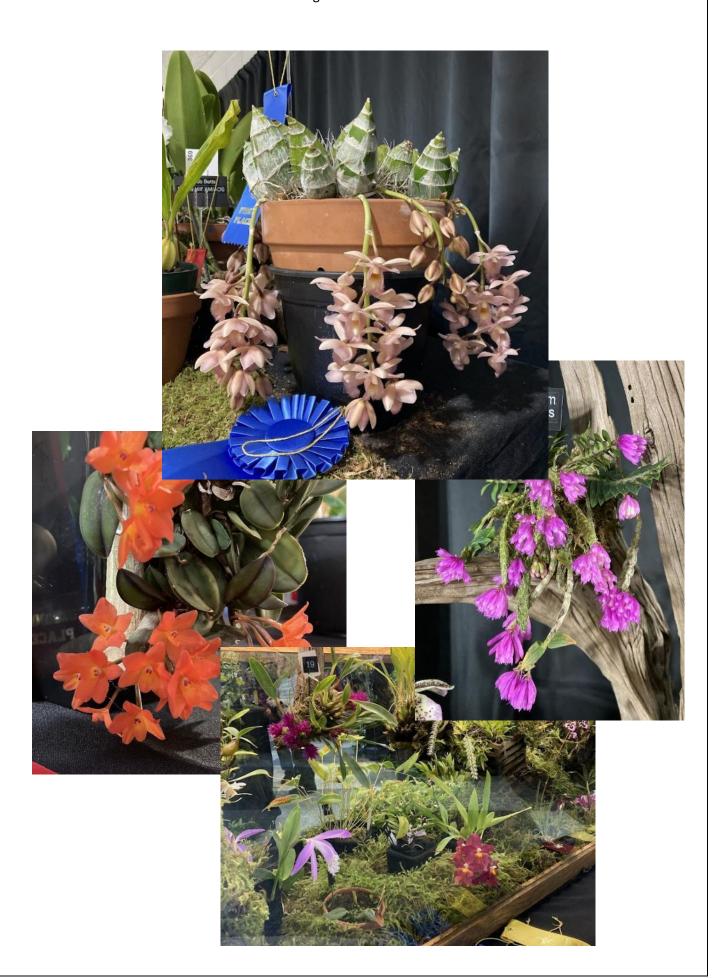

https://www.aos.org/webinars/why-wont-it-bloom-20250305

Join Ron McHatton and find ways to encourage your orchids to bloom to their full potential. Why won't some of your plants flower? Come and explore the subtle, and sometimes not so subtle, environmental clues that many orchids depend on to trigger flowering.

Scenes from the 2025 Amherst Orchid Society show:

Catasetums in the 2025 show

If this year's show could be said to have a theme, it might have been Catasetums. The Best in Show plant was Cl. Dragon's Treasure 'Gilberto' in the Massachusetts Orchid Society exhibit. There were four other Catasetum relatives in the show, and together they generated more than their fair share of interest and comments. Zoe had a dark colored Mormodia in the terrarium with the hybrid name Barnabas Collins. Several club members of a certain age reminisced fondly about the source of the name, which was a character in an offbeat vampire-themed soap opera from the 1960s.

Many attendees, and probably also Amherst Orchid Society members, were able to go home with a Catasetum of their own. A new vendor at this year's show, Tim Culbertson of Oceanside Orchids (affiliated with Sunset Valley Orchids) brought about 50 to sell, and they were quickly snapped up. This group of plants is known to have exacting cultural requirements, closely following seasonal cues. Sunset Valley circulates growing instructions for Catasetums and their relatives several times throughout the year to people on their mailing list. The information in their newsletters is very detailed and too lengthy to re-print here, so if you have one of these plants it would be beneficial to get on their mailing list for future newsletters. https://www.sunsetvalleyorchids.com/htm/mailinglist.html

The Sunset Valley website also has a page of general instructions for Catasetums: https://www.sunsetvalleyorchids.com/htm/culture_catasetinae.html

A very brief summary:

- As the new growth develops wait to irrigate until the new roots are well-developed and are 3 to 5" long. (Don't be in a hurry to water; it is better to wait)
- Irrigate and fertilize frequently while the plants are in active growth.
- Stop fertilization and reduce irrigation by one-half around mid-November.
- Cease watering by the 1 st of January.

Maybe with a year of healthy growth we will see even more Catasetums in next year's show!

The 45th Annual Paphiopedilum Forum

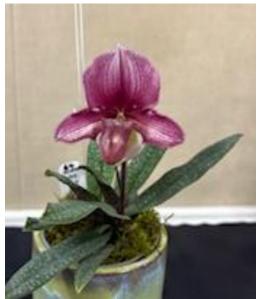

Joe Maciaszek

Maryland on a Friday so we could be ready for the forum that started at 8 on Saturday morning. The location is in a nice residential area, the meeting was held at a local church. There were a large number of very nice Paphs and Phrags on the sale tables. One was in bud so bought it knowing it should be ready for our show, and it made into our show. While I know many people frown on displaying recently acquired plants, I wanted to make sure we had enough plants for our display. I also bought a mature Phrag. kovachii which I hope will be in bloom next year. The people at the forum were very nice to talk to about the plants for sale or on display.

The orchid display part works very differently than most shows I have been to. People bring plants to the forum without registering them, they just place them on tables into the different possible categories to be judged. Judges are assigned certain categories to evaluate. When you get to that category, all of the plants there are judged and 1st, 2nd, 3rd are assigned. Then the clerk has to write down all of plant's information including the owner of the plant. I am glad with my bad handwriting that I didn't have to do that.

There were three talks at the forum, the first was about native slipper orchids. The talk focused on the decline of some types in the wild and the conservation program that Longwood Gardens runs. It was great to see how the invitro propagation of these slipper orchids works. The second was about Phrag. culture which I found most useful. The Phrag. kovachii I bought likes cooler temps, so I will have to make sure not to let it get too hot during the summer months.

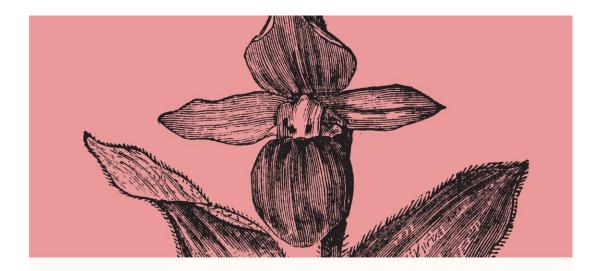

After lunch I went to AOS judging, so I missed the third talk but judged some nice plants. The team I was on gave 2 AOS awards. One was to a Phrag. kovachii and the other was to a Paph. villosum F. aureum.

Marge and I enjoyed the experience at the forum, meeting some familiar faces and new ones as well. I also worked with some new student judges who are with the National Capital Judging Center. It's nice to meet the next generation of judges even if they aren't in our judging center. This was a short, fast-paced meeting but I enjoyed it and hope to go again.
